4. PUBLIC COMMENTS: Mayor Anderson asked comments to be kept to 3 minutes. Emails from the following contributors were read, as they arrived after the time for inclusion in the meeting packet:

>Michael and Alyssa Johnson opposed waiving utility fees for a multi-unit housing development on Vancouver Avenue, stating the developer should contribute fees to the city for utilities.

>Julie May commented on proposed zoning changes and requested more property owner input. She also said the city should not waive hook-up fees, the developer should pay.

>Andrew Grossman opposed a waiver eliminating utility hookup fees for a new affordable housing development on Vancouver Avenue.

Public Comments delivered in person:

>Judith Morrison spoke against a waiver eliminating utility hookup fees for a new affordable housing development on Vancouver Avenue and provided some figures on taxes and fees she brought regarding the project.

Councilmember Weissfeld briefly described Stevenson's past lack of planning for sewer and water infrastructure improvements, stating some of the figures from Morrison were misleading due to construction costs.

>Lee Ann Shaw spoke and questioned the need for another proposed housing development.

>Mary Repar spoke about livability and workforce housing needs and urged policy changes regarding affordable housing in Stevenson. She also asked why there was no city representation at the housing and homeless council.

>Rosie Marquez asked about parking needs for the proposed housing development.

>Pat Rice stated he was disappointed to learn about the proposal to eliminate the utility hookup fee for the low-income housing development. He said it was not fair, as he is attempting to build smaller, more affordable homes in Stevenson.

>Bob Wilson had questions regarding the legality of the contract and loan application for the proposed development. He declared there was no credible bona-fide documentation for affordable Section 8 housing and no certification was provided regarding a need.

>Eric Allen asked the Council to deny the utility hook-up waiver for the developer.

>Brian McKenzie spoke as the developer regarding the project, stating he was aware of the affordable housing problem in Stevenson and wanted to offer a housing solution.

>Eric Allen spoke about bringing subsidized housing to his neighborhood and the traffic generated.

>Lee Anne Shaw commented about the development not being part of the historic neighborhood.

>Judith Morrison declared it was unfair for city residents to be asked to subsidize the utility hook-up fees for the proposed development. She was reminded comments were to be directed to the City Council.

>Andrew Grossman stated there is a fine line between affordable housing and low-income properties. He suggested the development was rapidly approaching where it won't work out for existing homeowners.

5. PUBLIC HEARINGS:

- a) Transportation Improvement Program (5a) -Public Works Director Karl Russell presented the six-year Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) for public input and council review. This is the first of two scheduled public hearings for the annual TIP update.

PW Director Karl Russell provided background information and a staff report on the 2022-2027 TIP Summary. It describes the condition of roads and provides guidance on where to add funds. He is waiting on a traffic study to see where traffic is flowing through town. Road work needs to coincide with utilities underground. He advised the order of projects on the document does not indicate any priority or schedule.

Mayor Anderson opened the public hearing at 6:38 to receive comments for or opposed. PW Director Karl Russell clarified the focus is on existing roads that need improvement.

Public Comments received:

>Pat Rice, a resident on Del Ray, asked to have the Del Ray project budgeted at $400K delayed a month until a private road/traffic study is complete, and data is gathered. He stated the city confirmed no data was used to justify the Del Ray project.

City Administrator Leana Kinley explained the current TIP projects were rolled forward from last year's TIP pending a comprehensive traffic study. No items on the list have had any traffic study. The city-wide traffic study is scheduled to be completed at the end of September 2021.

Projects can be added through individual public request. Del Ray was requested to be added to the TIP in 2015.

The TIP project list will be used to review the projects following the traffic study. Not all projects will be initiated. Some have been on the list since 1998 or earlier. Being on the TIP list allows the city to apply for grants in the next biennium in the event there is an urgent need or a grant that fits becomes available. She pointed out the Request for Proposals showed Del Ray was part of that study, which Mr. Rice had a copy of. Residents on Del Ray have chosen to do their own traffic study.

>Pat Rice stated it was insulting to keep Del Ray on there just because a couple people asked to have it added. He said it was disruptive and stressful, and data and science should have been used to justify it being on the list. Don't insult us further and threaten our neighborhood with a $400K road.

>Rick May spoke next. He stated he and Julie May requested to have Del Ray put on the list seven years ago. He asked to now have it removed.

Mayor Anderson closed the public hearing at 6:47 p.m. City Administrator Kinley noted there will be a second public hearing on TIP at the June 17th, 2021 Council meeting, and the TIP must be approved by June 30th, 2021.

A short discussion followed between Councilmembers and city staff regarding inclusion or removal of projects on the TIP list. City Administrator Kinley pointed out that it is the Council which ultimately approves what is on the list and none of the projects on the list are necessarily approved. She highlighted prior to any project funding application moving forward, the city intends to engage in additional communication and public input.

Councilmember Weissfeld shared there were specific reasons Del Ray had been included, and the school and larger community also had an interest. PW Director Russell advised too many other road and street projects are needed, and Del Ray was unlikely to be on Public Work's radar.

It was determined to allow the TIP hearing process to proceed in order to obtain and consider additional comments received at the second public hearing scheduled for June 17th, 2021. Councilmember Weissfeld stated all public comments are recorded, and there is no need to attend the second hearing if comments were already expressed.

6. SITUATION UPDATES:

- a) COVID-19 Update-Mayor Scott Anderson provided an update on the city's response to the COVID-19 pandemic. By June 30th, 2021, all areas will be open, earlier if 70% of those 16 years of age or older are vaccinated. All counties have gone to phase 3. Mask mandate has been modified-unless establishment asks, masks are optional. He welcomed the changes.

City Administrator Kinley reported the next round of COVID-19 relief funding would provide $350K in two phases. The funds can be used for public health, to replace lost revenue, provide premium pay for employees, invest in wastewater, broadband improvements, etc.

- b) Sewer Plant Update (1)-Public Works Director Karl Russell provided an update on the Stevenson Wastewater System and the Compliance Schedule. He stated it was business as usual. As of April 2021, Hood River raised their rates from 12 cents per gallon to 34 cents per gallon for bio-solids being hauled into their WWTP. He is looking for quotes from other facilities. Longview's cost per gallon is 11 cents, but the transportation expense would likely rise.

Councilmember Cox asked about the affect the price rises would have on the current budget. City Administrator Kinley explained the budget was based on the anticipation all local production facilities would be at full capacity, and since they are not, there are fewer bio-solids to haul. Regional wastewater treatment plants are upgrading their facilities to increase their capacity.

Public Works Director Russell also noted the budget is still below where the City was when contracting with Jacobs. City Administrator Kinley added that with increased regional development there is less open land to apply bio-solids, and they will eventually need to go to a landfill. Public Works Director Russell shared Public Works is in the planning stages with the PUD for moving power for future WWTP upgrades. The bid goes out later in 2021. Contractors reported difficulties with getting materials and bids for materials for the Rock Creek project. The bid period has been extended.

>Sarah Shaw asked why does the county need a well?

City Administrator Leana Kinley explained it would be less expensive to drill a well then pay city rates for treated water, as this is just for irrigation. Water rights are another consideration.
